Many different languages have existed for centuries. We see a large map which has many language families. But what about a large part of the world's population that doesn't have ability to hear? Today, there are about 36 million people with hearing problem which makes up over 5% of the world's population. About 70 million deaf people use sign language as their first language or mother tongue. They use different signs to meet their needs. Sign language varies from country to country. For example, American Sign Language (invented in 1817) differs from British Sign Language. Besides, each sign language has its own grammar. You might want to imagine how deaf people use grammar. For example, when a person is asking question about who, where, what, why, when, the eyebrows go down. If the question is about yes/no situation, the eyebrows go up. Generally, there are more than 200 sign language in use around the world. In 1620, Juan Pablo de Bonnet, the Spanish priest, published the first book that taught sign language to the deaf. He tried to show that deaf people absolutely have the same rights as ordinary people to understand others, share their experience, and be in society. Sign languages help them to learn and enjoy success as everyone else.

The modern lifestyle has had both positive and negative effects on people's lives. Modern technologies have enabled us to have easy access to information, become more creative, experience fast communication, travel easier, and have a more comfortable life. Have you ever imagined a world without the Internet, tablets, mobile phones, airplanes, and vacuum cleaners? Most people cannot do that, as technology is the miracle of our time.

But using new technologies has changed people's lifestyle in a way that harms their lives in this century as well. Some technologies are dangerous to our health and can harm our body. Using mobile phones or surfing the net for long hours can increase people's blood pressure and cause sleep problems. Playing video games for long hours makes people nervous and harm their heart and nervous system. Listening to music by headsets can be harmful to one's hearing and even brain.

58-Technology has had both negative and positive effects. (T / F)

59- Six positive effects of technology are listed in the passage. (T / F)

60- Playing video games a lot doesn't have any effects on our body. (T / F)

61- Write two positive effects of modern technologies.

62- How can using mobile and surfing the net be harmful?

Good Luck
